BERILMU BERDAKTI

INTRODUCTION

The profession in veterinary medicine has gradually and steadily gaining importance in Malaysia. We now have a much better understanding of disease and disease processes and are able to apply this to further improve our livestock and animal industry. As our knowledge and expertise in various aspects of animal health and production has expanded, so has our contribution to the global community as a whole. We are the providers of advanced animal health care with state-of-the-art diagnostics and are also heavily involved in groundbreaking research that has put veterinarians on the map. There's nothing more satisfying than being able to contribute immensely to the industry for the betterment and the survival of the profession.

This seminar aims to introduce veterinarians, scientists and members of the health profession to the current highlights and the latest contributions to animal health and production by our veterinarians and animal scientist.
